

Clinical Governance for Pressure Injury Prevention in Aged Care

Welcome to the "Clinical Governance for Pressure Injury Prevention in Aged Care" course, a comprehensive and essential training program designed specifically for healthcare professionals, aged care providers, and clinical leaders. Pressure injuries represent a significant challenge in aged care settings, impacting the quality of life for residents and serving as a critical indicator of clinical care quality.

This course bridges the gap between high-level clinical governance and practical, on-the-ground wound management and pressure injury prevention. Throughout this in-depth program, you will explore the core elements of clinical governance, including leadership, culture, consumer partnerships, and organisational systems, aligning directly with the Aged Care Quality Standards. You will delve into the latest evidence-based practices for preventing pressure injuries and managing wounds, guided by international protocols and the NPIAP 2016 Pressure Injury Classification System.

From conducting accurate risk and skin assessments to implementing effective prevention plans and treating existing injuries, this course equips you with the actionable knowledge required to elevate patient safety. Furthermore, the curriculum covers essential methodologies for guideline development, consumer participation, and conflict of interest management, ensuring a holistic understanding of how clinical policies are created and sustained.

By the end of this course, you will be empowered to foster a culture of clinical quality and safety, ensuring accountability and driving continuous improvement in your healthcare organisation. Enhance your clinical expertise and make a tangible difference in the lives of those in aged care.
