

NDIS Implementing Provider Responsibilities for Behaviour Support Plans

Welcome to the comprehensive course on "NDIS Implementing Provider Responsibilities for Behaviour Support Plans." Navigating the complexities of the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) requires a deep understanding of positive behaviour support and the strict regulations surrounding restrictive practices.

This course is meticulously designed for NDIS implementing providers, behaviour support practitioners, and Authorised Program Officers (APOs) who are dedicated to delivering high-quality, compliant, and person-centered care. Throughout this training, you will explore the Positive Behaviour Support Capability Framework, gaining essential insights into capability domains such as implementation, knowing what works, and managing restrictive practices. We will delve into the Regulated Restrictive Practices Guide, helping you identify, reduce, and eliminate chemical, environmental, and physical restraints, as well as seclusion. Furthermore, this course provides critical legislative context, covering key sections of the Disability Act 2006 related to the appointment of APOs and the authorisation of regulated restrictive practices, including emergency protocols.

You will also learn the step-by-step processes for reporting the use of restrictive practices, applying for practitioner suitability, and utilising self-assessment tools to build a robust portfolio of evidence. By the end of this course, you will be fully equipped with the knowledge and practical checklists needed to ensure your organisation meets all NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission requirements, ultimately fostering a safer and more supportive environment for people with disabilities.
